

Insurance

Insurance is a legal requirement once you've hired a PA. It protects you and the PA should anything happen while they are providing you support. Some household insurance policies cover "Employers' Liability Insurance". It may be worth checking with your current household insurance policy documents and contacting your insurance provider to ask them if they will cover you.

If your current insurers do not cover this type of insurance, the following 2 insurance organisations specialise in this area of insurance. Contact them for a quote, each quote will be different depending on the situation, we've heard of quote from £70 to £100 per annum.

Independent living insurance specialists:

1. Fish Insurance: Phone 0500 432 141 or 0800 088 3245 or email: admin@fishinsurance.co.uk
2. Premier Care Insurance: 01476 514478 or email: enquiries@markbatesltd.com

Individual Employers who hire PA's are responsible for getting "Employers Liability Insurance" in place. However, Self-Employed PAs are responsible for getting Public Liability Insurance in place. Both of the above insurance companies can support with both types of insurance.
